

“Are You Relationship Ready for 2009? Be Ready Now!”

By Dr. Cindy Brown, “The Relationship Strategist”

Many of my clients and friends constantly tell me that they are not happy being single or without a partner. I consistently let them know what things I have done and that they must do in order to have the relationship I have and what they have always hoped and dreamed of.

If you are willing to look at yourself and your patterns deeply and transform yourself from where you are now, to something better, you can have different results next year, or whenever you want. Just as I did and just as Cinderella did! However if you continue to do the same things and expect different results, just call that insanity and bury yourself in the sand! AND stop complaining to your friends, they are sick of hearing it!

No seriously, instead, pay attention to these simple secrets and begin here...

1. Change Your Attitude and Energy to positive: Make sure you are happy and accepting of your life, your body, your physical appearance, energy and presence, car, home environment, job, career, etc. Why? Because when you are happy with yourself and with your life you put out good energy, then other people are attracted to your energy. Research has shown that men and women are both attracted to those who have confidence and a positive energy. And if you want a good person to be attracted to you, you need to have good energy, like attracts like, the Law of Attraction proves so, whether you like it or believe in it or not! If you don't love yourself, how do you expect someone else too!

2. Have Clarity: know what you want, make your wish list- If you want to be in a relationship that honors you and what you really want to have and feel, you need to do some important steps to make sure you eventually get what you really want. I share all the steps in my new book The Cinderella System.™ get all the details and a FREE relationship success kit at www.TheCinderellaSystem.com. Or if you want to learn live in a small group or in a teleseminar format, see information above about my Cinderella Glass Slipper Love Camp.

One step you can do right now is look at all your past relationships (romantic ones and with friends, family etc) and write down what you liked and didn't like about each one. This should give you a beginning look at what you want vs. what you don't want. Focus on what you want, ignore what you don't want, so the universe knows what to send/give you! Pay attention, be aware if and when you are attracted to something you don't want, simply move on and focus on your list of what you want expecting it to show up for you any minute, think positive!

3. Practice: Make sure you are going out and practicing communicating, relating with others, meeting people and researching what you want. The more comfortable with who you are and what you want, the more likely you will find and attract that which you are looking for. So many people fail to do this step. You need to be active and putting energy out, in order to attract energy to you. Go hang-out where your ideal partner would hang-out. If you are a healthy person- go to the gym, health store, running track etc. If you are a book person, hangout at your local bookstore or reading room.
